About Our Speaker: Tammi Ross

Tammi is a wife, mother and grandmother! Her and her husband grew up in Greensburg, PA, which is where they currently live. They met while she was still in high school. He told her he was a Christian, but she figured since she went to church sometimes and she didn't worship the devil, she must be a Christian too! About a month into their relationship, she trusted Jesus as her Savior, thanks to the stack of Chick tracts he gave her to read. When he graduated from Penn State, his job took him to Santa Ana, Ca, then to Baltimore, MD. While in Baltimore, we began attending Rosedale Baptist Church, where she was baptized and became very active in the ministry. No matter what was going on, they were there serving. While in Baltimore, she graduated from the University of Baltimore with a B.S. in business administration with a concentration in human resource management. There were great times of happiness and tremendous sadness. In October of 1994, their first daughter, Emily, was born and they were beyond thrilled. In 1995 they lost a little girl at 34 weeks gestation, which was heartbreaking. Then in 1996 their next daughter, Rebekah was born and to complete their family, in 2000, their son Bobby was born.

In July of 1995, her husband felt God's calling into full-time ministry while at a youth conference at FBC of Hammond IN. His family all saw this calling coming, but were surprised that it surprised him! They moved to Crown Point, IN where he was called to be the pastor of Heritage Baptist Church a month before graduating from Hyles Anderson College. They just celebrated 27 years there this past May. Tammi enjoys baking and even occasionally still decorates cakes. She runs the school at their church since November 2012 and also teaches and tutors high schoolers as well as runs the church & school offices. She is excited to share lessons learned
